HURRICANE AIMS AT CAROLINA COAST

Tigers Smash Wilmington Hurricane in 21-12 Win

By PAUL SMALLWOOD
Herald Staff Writer

A fired-up and determined Circleville High School football squad turned back the vaunted Hurricane of Wilmington, 21-12, last night on the local gridiron.

Two lightning-quick Tiger touchdowns in the first quarter completely took the wind out of the Hurricane which had rolled over two opponents on previous Friday nights. The home forces had to wait until the final quarter for their last score, but the damage already had been done as they grabbed their first South Central Ohio League win.

The Hurricane's feared halfback Mickey Vanscoy, who had shattered Franklin and Lebanon in Wilmington's two previous wins, found it rough going here last night. The agile ball carrier tried hard to break away, but the alert Tigers made sure that he did not see daylight for any sizable gains. Stealing some of Vanscoy's thunder was right halfback Walt Arledge who scored two Tiger touchdowns and added plenty of yardage in the winning effort. Left half Ray Phifer, playing one of his best games as a CHS griddier, added the other TD and ripped off some nice gains.

GUARD Asa Elsea's valuable right foot added all three extra points. Two of his boots split the uprights. The other was partially blocked, but it still crossed the bar.

Mark Smith proved to be the most dangerous runner for Wilmington. The speedy fullback gave Circleville plenty of trouble as he romped 33 yards to paydirt in the third quarter and crashed over from one yard out in the final period.

Circleville dominated in the first half by racking up eight first downs and holding possession of the ball most of the time. Wilmington failed to gain a single first-and-ten in the opening two quarters, but roared back to pick up five on the ground and one by a penalty in the second half.

Neither team completed a pass, although Wilmington threw four times and CHS three. One of the Tiger aerials was intercepted.

The fireworks began when Vanscoy fumbled Elsea's opening kickoff and center Brent Bell recovered for the Tigers on the 20-yard line. In less than two minutes and five plays later, Circleville had its first score.

Arledge and fullback Larry Hannahs, in action for the first time since the Athens game, picked up a first down inside the 10-yard line. Phifer then squirted through to the two and Arledge went the rest of the way to make it 6-0, Circleville.

THE TIGERS' second touchdown came a few minutes later when tackle Harry Strawser pounced on a Wilmington fumble on the enemy 38.

Arledge picked up 21 yards on three successive plunges and Hannahs added four to move the ball to the 13. Arledge then smashed to the two and Phifer ripped into the end zone on the next play. Elsea's partially blocked placement made it CHS 14, Wilmington 0.

Circleville threatened twice in the second quarter by moving inside Wilmington's 30-yard line. The first time the locals lost the ball on a fumble on the 22.

The second drive was halted when Elsea's attempted field goal from the 35 was blocked. Each time the visitors gained possession they failed to move, but also managed to keep the Tigers in check.

Wilmington's vain attempts to move in the second quarter were thwarted by a solid CHS line, especially tackle Bill Perkins and end Jim Woods who threw enemy runners for several losses.

Wilmington started to roll in the late minutes of the third quarter. Aided by a 15-yard penalty, Vanscoy and Smith collaborated to move the pigskin to the CHS 33. On the next play Smith took a handoff and circled right end for a touchdown.

VANSCOY's run for extra points was stopped short and Circleville remained out front, 14-6.

Apparently disturbed by Wilmington's uprising, the Tigers took the following kickoff and moved 55 yards in 10 plays for their final score of the evening. Quarterback Tom Greeno, alternating Arledge, Phifer and Hannahs on smashes and sweeps, finally called on Arledge to lug the mail over from two yards out. Again Elsea's boot sailed through the posts and Circleville led, 21-6.

Wilmington then duplicated Circleville's march by taking the kickoff and moving 70 yards for the last touchdown of the evening. Quarterback Gary Vance touched off the rally by going 19 yards on a double reverse, a play which worked well for the visitors most of the night.

With the ball on Circleville's 48, Smith then dashed off tackle, reversed his field and raced all the way to the Tiger 19 before he was forced out of bounds. Vanscoy moved the pigskin to the 1-yard line in three plays and Smith took it over.

Vance, attempting to circle end for the extra points, was stopped inches short and the score remained Circleville 21, Wilmington 12.

With about two minutes to go, Circleville grabbed the kickoff and

'Seeing-Eye Moon' Is Lost; Scientists Completely Baffled

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The latest U.S. satellite—a 22-pound Vanguard loaded with instruments to study weather phenomena—apparently is lost in space.

Hours after the mighty three-stage rocket soared aloft Friday, the top scientists in the program offered only a "We don't know" in answer to queries about the latest U.S. moon.

Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, told reporters there was a remote possibility that Vanguard could be whirling around the globe, "but the chances are greater that the satellite is not in orbit."

He said it would be several days before the fate of the satellite is known for sure.

It looked like another Vanguard failure, the sixth in seven tries. Navy scientists sought to reduce telemetry data taken on the flight to pick up clues on the satellite's whereabouts.

Shortly after what appeared to be a perfect launching, the engines of the trim 22,500-pound rocket fired successfully, but only baffling silence followed until Hagen brought newsmen up to date.

The satellite's shrieking signal was picked up normally by three stations just after liftoff, he said, but the moon was not heard on what should have been its first pass over San Diego, Calif.

Refugee Shouts His Slaying Guilt

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A psychiatrist from Lima State Hospital, Dr. Alexander Choyne, had just finished testifying that in his opinion James Milak, 34, had been faking insanity.

Up jumped Milak, shouting: "I want to tell my story. I don't care if I go to the chair. I'm a dirty double murderer."

At that point Judge Stephen C. Colopy, who had been conducting a sanity hearing for Milak for two days, instructed the jury to declare him sane.

As a result, Milak will go on trial for murder. The Hungarian, refugee is accused of slaying Lillie Mikulak, 34, once his sweetheart, and her husband of four days, Steve, 45, in Portage County last fall.

moved for 19 yards before the final gun sounded.

COACH Tom Bennett, well-satisfied with the Tigers' showing, said the locals in no way resembled the club which lost 6-0 to Columbus Rosary last Friday.

He praised the team as a whole, noting that it was a group victory. He especially was pleased with the Tiger offense, the department which failed to click in last week's loss.

Bennett explained that having Strawser and Hannahs back in the lineup, along with Arledge running near full speed, seemed to give the Tiger offense a much-needed lift.

Coming in for a share of praise on defense were the consistent efforts of Elsea, middle guard Marion Morrison, linebacker Harold Arledge, tackles Strawser and Perkins, ends Jim Woods and Leo Moats and halfback Arch Ward.

Wilmington's strong running game suffered considerably due to the crashing of Perkins, Morrison and Arledge who several times caught enemy backs behind the line of scrimmage.

The Tigers go after their second South Central Ohio League win here Friday when Hillsboro comes to town. The following Friday the Red and Black gridders travel to Greenfield for their first road game of the season.

Here are the lineups:

CIRCLEVILLE — Ends: Woods, Moats, Leonard, Greene; tackles: Strawser, Gerhardt; guards: Elsea, Wolfe, Morrison; Arledge, Huffer; centers: Bell, Rooney; halfbacks: Arledge, Phifer, Ward; Vandemark; fullbacks: Hannahs, Birchler; quarterbacks: Greeno, Woods.

WILMINGTON — Ends—Mossbauer, Mullen, Gregory; tackles—Dowdy, Washington, Hamilton, McCoy; guards—French, Debord, Fenner; centers—Bias, Kemper; halfbacks—Vanscoy, Marshall, Simpson; quarterbacks—Vance, Kidd; fullback—Smith.

Circleville — 14 0 0 7 — 21
Wilmington — 0 0 0 4 — 12
Touchdowns: Circleville — Arledge (2); Phifer; Wilmington—Smith (2); extra points: Circleville — Elsea, 3 (place-kicks).

The gold plated satellite, the third of its size to be blasted into space, carried two light sensitive photoelectric cells which would measure the earth's cloud cover for the first time.

South African scientists who picked up signals from the U. S. Vanguard satellite launched at Cape Canaveral Friday said they believe it has gone into the Indian Ocean.

Douglas Hugg, who was manning a tracking station with William Porter, said signals from the satellite were "loud and clear—too clear to be good."

He said the signals were picked up 38 minutes after the launching and the satellite apparently was only 70 or 80 miles above Bloemfontein, South Africa, traveling fast and too low to last long.

Detroit Polio List Up

DETROIT (AP) — Seven new cases of polio were reported in Detroit Friday bringing the Motor City's epidemic case load thus far this year to 469. There have been 12 deaths.

Eight Miami University graduate students will begin a preliminary survey of Circleville Monday, leading toward a community plan for the future.

The graduate class in city design, under the expert guidance of Prof. Rudolph Frankel, will spend about three or four days in Circleville finding out the assets and shortcomings of the community.

The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce planned the city design program and is financing it. L. D. Varble, public affairs chairman of the Chamber, is in charge.

All eight graduate students and Prof. Frankel visited here yesterday. They met with chamber executives, city officials, checked their working quarters and took a tour of the city. They will work from the offices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce,

Little Rock Voting Today On Integration

Heavy Ballot Expected As City Decides Crucial Referendum

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Election officials predict a heavy vote in today's crucial referendum on the integration of Little Rock schools.

The ballot offers a choice of allowing Negroes to attend all schools in the Little Rock School District, or restricting them to their own segregated schools.

There are about 42,000 eligible voters, including 8,000 Negroes. Tension over the election has been rising during the past few days.

Friday night Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who closed the city's four high schools two weeks ago in a move to avoid immediate integration, appealed for a heavy turnout at the polls.

He assailed Little Rock factions that have been promoting a vote for integrated schools. But Faubus said he was not trying to influence the election. "The decision is yours," he declared in a locally televised speech. "As your public servant, I will abide by your decision."

A plea for approval of integrated schools was made Friday night by four of Little Rock's church leaders. They appeared on a televised program sponsored by a women's group that contends the high schools can only be opened if voters approve integration.

Faubus has proposed a private school plan. He said Friday night that private institutions would not be subject to court rulings and therefore could be operated on a segregated basis.

"This is the main reason why such a great and determined effort is being made to confuse and deceive the voters of the Little Rock school district," he said. "The integrationists are about to lose a battle."

The governor expressed a conviction that courts would never order private schools to integrate.

Faubus charged that President Eisenhower had joined in a "campaign of deception and propaganda" aimed at making voters believe they must approve integration or let the schools remain closed.

Eisenhower warned Thursday that closing of public schools faced with integration in Arkansas and Virginia could lead to disastrous consequences for the nation.

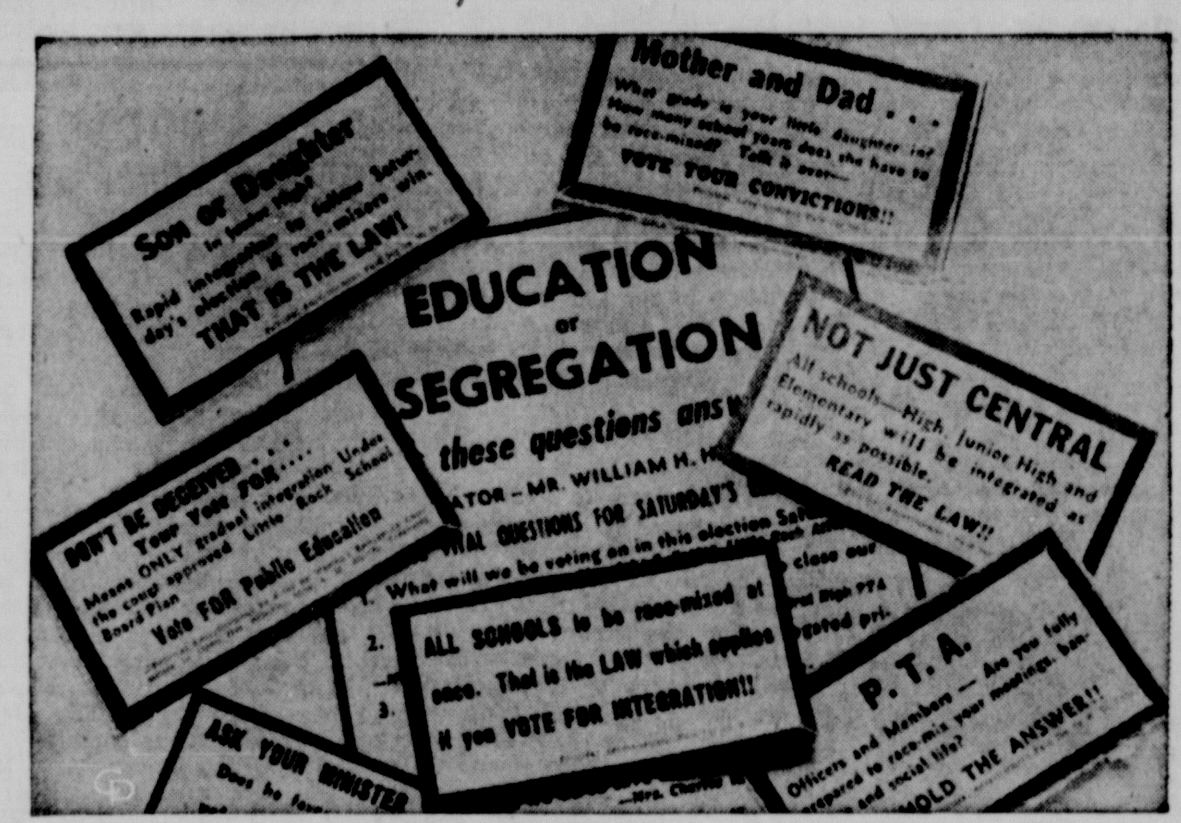

Reiterating that he had a workable plan for placing public schools under private operation on a segregated basis, Faubus added:

"I do not get into a situation without knowing what I am doing."

The clergymen appealing for a vote in favor of integrated schools were the Rt. Rev. Robert R. Brown, Episcopal bishop of Arkansas; Methodist Bishop Paul E. Martin; Dr. T. B. Hay, a Presbyterian pastor, and Dr. Dale Cowling, a Baptist pastor and president of the Greater Little Rock Ministerial Alliance.

Bishop Brown urged voters to

ADDING TO THE TURMOIL — Many advertisements, like these shown here, are appearing in Little Rock, Ark., newspapers in a fight for voters' attention. Voters in the Little Rock district will go to the polls to vote for or against integration in public schools closed on orders of Gov. Orval Faubus.

Britain Says Give Islands To Reds; India Asks Truce

WASHINGTON (AP) — British officials are reported advocating a long range, compromise settlement of the Formosa dispute under which Nationalist-held coastal islands eventually would go to Red China.

The British government also was reported today to be advising the United States against bringing the Formosa crisis before the United Nations in the immediate future. London officials were said to believe the best hope for a peaceful settlement lies in diplomatic negotiations rather than U. N. debate.

According to information current in U. S. official quarters, British leaders think the first requirement in any successful negotiation is agreement on a cease fire. On this point British policy supports the stand taken by the United States in talks with the Red Chinese at Warsaw during the past two weeks.

The British were pictured as believing an eventual settlement should provide for yielding the Nationalist-held offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu to the Communists. Formosa itself, they feel, could be put under the mantle of the United Nations through some device such as a U. N. trusteeship.

The result of this kind of settlement could be a line down the middle of the Formosa Strait to separate U. S.-backed Nationalist power and the forces of Communism in China.

Such a solution would run contrary to the presently strong positions of both the Chinese Communist and the Chinese Nationalist regime on Formosa. But in the United Nations India's veteran mediator V. K. Krishna Menon has been sounding out delegates from both sides of the Iron Curtain with a plan aimed at breaking the Formosa deadlock.

Informants said Menon, who had played a middle role in helping solve past East-West disagreements at the U. N., wants to make the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu a no-man's land while a political settlement is sought for Formosa.

Under this proposal, the sources said, the Chinese Nationalists would pull their armed forces from the islands, while the Red Chinese would promise not to attempt any landings during negotiations.

The Indians are understood to feel that next Tuesday—when the talks between U. S. and Red Chinese ambassadors resume in Warsaw—will be the critical stage in the bargaining session between the United States and Red China.

The United States has made it pretty clear that if the Warsaw talks break down it will toss the issue before the General Assembly or the Security Council.

Many delegates feel, however, that the East-West bitterness stirred up by such a debate would hamper any settlement. They would prefer to see a good offices commission created to try to work out the problem.

It has been suggested that such a commission assign a key role to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold—perhaps as emissary to Peiping.

Ex-Con Shot Trying To Enter Prison

MARION, Ohio (AP)—A former inmate and parolee of the Marion Correctional Institution was critically wounded Friday as he attempted to force his way into the institution. He was apparently attempting to free a prisoner.

M. C. Koblenz, chief of the Division of Correction, said Eugene Neckar, 30, was shot, and a guard, Clem Strohl, 53, of Cardington, beaten during a scuffle as Neckar attempted to get into the medium security institution.

Neckar was taken to Marion General Hospital where he is under guard. Strohl was reported in satisfactory condition at Morrow County Hospital at Mount Gilead.

Koblenz quoted Strohl as saying Neckar approached the institution's gates about 3:20 p. m. He told Strohl he had a package to deliver and wanted to see an official. As Strohl started to telephone for an official, Neckar pulled a .22 caliber pistol and ordered Strohl to open the gates.

Strohl grabbed at Neckar, who then began hitting the guard with the gun. During the fight the gun was discharged, hitting Neckar in the chest.

Koblenz said Jack Hartman, 26, an inmate, later admitted he was the man Neckar was attempting to reach. Hartman, who has been in the Marion institution since October, 1957, is serving a life sentence for first degree murder.

125-Mph. Wind Clocked within Massive Storm

South Carolina Spared As Blow Turns North, Heads for Cape Fear

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Hurricane Helene aimed the fury of her winds and waters toward North Carolina's southeastern coast late this morning.

This "dangerous" hurricane, her central winds spinning 125 miles an hour, was located at 9 a. m. (EST) 40 miles south of Cape Fear, a point of land jutting into the seething Atlantic 30 miles south of Wilmington. The storm's forward speed was 10 m.p.h.

Helene, making the classic turn of Atlantic hurricanes to the north, altered course in the night, apparently sparing South Carolina coastal lands the brunt of her full blow.

Friday and Friday night she had followed a northwest course, but today she swung to the north.

"This would indicate that the center would move very close to Cape Fear late this forenoon attended by winds of 90 to 125 m.p.h. in this area and northeastward to Cape Hatteras," said the Weather Bureau's 9 o'clock advisory.

After the 9 a. m. advisory, North Carolina's Gov. Luther Hodges left his Raleigh office and flew to Wilmington, the Cape Fear River port city of 50,000 about 25 miles upstream from the ocean.

Hurricane force winds already had struck the Frying Pan Shoals light ship, which guards the river entrance.

Lesser winds struck beaches east of Wilmington, knocking roofs from lightly built houses. Power lines lay in yards and low areas.

Other beaches of the area, particularly Wrightsville and Carolina, were evacuated Friday night and early today.

Myrtle Beach is the largest of the beach communities that string almost entirely along the South Carolina and southern North Carolina coasts. It has about 15,000 permanent residents and has been credited with having housed 100,000 during the height of the vacation season. It is the site of the Myrtle Beach Air Force Base, a jet fighter base.

One death already was attributed to the storm. Richard Wats, 40, was killed near Whiteville, N.C., when his car skidded on a wet highway and overturned.

The U.S. Weather Bureau made clear very early that Helene was an extremely dangerous storm. It warned that storm tides would be 10 feet higher than normal—perhaps higher in some places. Low coastal areas would be flooded and people who didn't get out before the storm hit wouldn't get out.

With the marks of 1954's Hazel and 1955's Connie, Diane and Ione still visible in some places, beach residents took the warning seriously.

Civil Defense officials, National Guardsmen, the Civil Air Patrol, highway patrolmen and local officials organized swiftly to see that lives—and as much property as possible—were safeguarded.

In some communities evacuation was mandatory. In others only a handful of property owners stayed in the exposed areas.

Ohio TB Officials Favor Closing State Clinics

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With 1,000 empty beds in the state's tuberculosis hospitals, a proposal to close half of Ohio's 22 TB hospitals found favor among hospital officials and Tuberculosis Society executives meeting here.

A tentative proposal to either close 11 of the hospitals or find other uses for them was approved Friday by the conference. Improved methods of treatment were cited for the decline in hospitalized TB patients.

Saltcreek PTO Holds First Meet

The Saltcreek Parent Teachers Organization recently held its first meeting of the 1958-59 school year in the high school auditorium.

The organization voted to donate to the Community Fund. Mrs. Sterling Poling and Judson Beougher were selected to attend the State House Conference on Education to be held October 28 in Columbus.

Mrs. Orville Kempton was named news reporter. Other committees appointed were finance, public relations, membership and school needs.

The program was opened by Paul Murray with the pledge to the flag. Betty Huffman led the devotions. The junior orchestra gave several musical selections and songs were given by the first graders.

THE THIRD and fourth grades presented skits from "Alpha to Omega". Mrs. Poling led discussions on, "Problems in Education."

Teachers were introduced by Walter Haney, Saltcreek superintendent. A reception in honor of the teachers was given by PTO officers and parents, immediately after the program.

A citizen meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Monday in the Pickaway Twp. school for the entire Logan Elm District.

Kiwanis Will Present Mock OMVI Trial

The Circleville Kiwanis Club will present a mock trial at 7 p. m. Monday in the Pickaway County Common Pleas Courtroom.

The mock trial will depict an actual courtroom scene. This program will be presented to educate and inform Kiwanians and their guests as to courtroom procedure. The public is invited to attend this program. Judge William Ammer will preside over the trial. Prosecuting attorney will be Robert Huffer. Defense attorney will be Richard Penn.

Defendant is James I. Smith. The trial will involve the common-law driving while under the influence of intoxicants charge. A jury will be selected from the audience and the entire program will be held under actual trial and court rules, except for the humorous angle, which will be plentiful.

Wilson Named Head Of Junior Fair Board

Nathan Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson, Route 1, was last night elected president of the Pickaway County Junior Fair Board.

The junior board held its first reorganizational meeting in the fairgrounds coliseum. Elected to serve with Wilson were Marvin Reichelderfer, vice president, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Reichelderfer, Tarleton, and Patty Moats, secretary and treasurer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moats, Route 4.

The fair board held an evaluation of this year's fair activities and decided to retain all the events with the approval of the Agricultural Society.

MASTER DRESBACH

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Dresbach, Kingston, are the parents of a son born at 8 p. m. yesterday in Berger Hospital.

Mrs. William Snyder Heads Franklin St. School PTA

Mrs. Glen Justice, president, introduced the new officers when the Franklin St. Parents-Teachers Assn. met in the kindergarten room at 8 p. m. Thursday with approximately 65 attending. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. John Dietrich.

The new officers for the year are: Mrs. William Snyder, secretary; Mrs. Roy Palmer, co-chairman; Mrs. Don Valentine, treasurer and Mrs. C. E. Miller, health chairman. Mrs. Miller reported 27 second polio and 23 second triple shots were given on September 25 and the date for the third shots will be set later.

Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, principal, then introduced the two new teachers, Mrs. Richard Fisher, sixth grade and Mrs. Dietrich, first grade. Other teachers are: Mrs. Cleon Webb, Mrs. Ruby Wallon, Lowell Horton, Mrs. Leon Sims, Mrs. Robert Tacy, Miss Elsie Updyke, Miss Amy Miga, Mrs. Royce Hendrickson, Mrs. A. D. Blackburn, Mrs. Ralph Ward and Mrs. McClure Hughs.

G. A. Hartman, superintendent of city schools, addressed the group on a problem pertinent to Franklin Street School. Sixty-eight bus children and car pool children bring their lunches to school where a cafeteria or room is not available. At the present time they are eating in the hall. The number of children will increase when cold weather comes.

No Candidate In Ohio Shows Any Confidence

5 Weeks til Election But Politicians Mum On Their Prospects

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of the scarest things in Ohio today is the self-assured politician.

Here we are, only five weeks from the end of the campaign, and you can't find a statewide office holder or seeker radiating confidence. Instead, all you get is worried looks and the comment:

"This is one election you just can't figure."

Voter registrations are somewhere near an all-time high even though this is not a presidential year. That would appear to mean that a lot more Ohioans intend to vote Nov. 4 than normally would be expected to visit the polls in a year when the presidency is not at stake.

Why all the sudden voter interest?

There can be only one answer—the proposed constitutional amendment to regulate labor contracts, Issue No. 2. That is the proposal which would provide:

"No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

From a purely selfish standpoint, nominees for office aren't worrying so much over the fate of the amendment itself.

They want to know this: When all those people who apparently intend to vote actually get inside the voting booth, for what candidates will they cast their ballots? Is this a flood of anti-amendment voters planning an assault on the polls? Or have pro-amendment forces also managed to get their friends to register?

If the "antis" have done a better job in getting their friends registered, it would be logical to assume that candidates who have come out against the amendment will benefit.

But if both sides on the burning issue have done an equally good job in getting their backers registered, then candidates of neither party should benefit.

Whether Republican officeholders who now control the statehouse from cellar to garret like it or not, the proposal to regulate labor contracts could become, in effect, a party issue.

Michael V. DiSalle, the Democratic nominee for governor, has taken a personal stand against it. The Democratic state platform has followed suit.

Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill has emphasized his stand in favor of the proposal is a purely one. He says he will not pressure the Republican convention meeting Oct. 9 to put a plank in its platform in support of his stand on the issue.

U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker has not yet announced his stand on the key issue. But, although he has expressed his displeasure over the fact the issue's sponsors insisted on placing it on this year's ballot, Bricker is expected to support it.

In the mass, labor union members tend toward the Democratic side of the political ledger. Nationally, this year, observers note some trend away from the Republican tide which swept President Eisenhower into a second term in 1956. This, supposedly, results from the economic recession of the last 12 months.

Add everything together as you look at the Ohio political scene and the conclusion is inescapable: Some Republican candidates are, right now, in hot water right up to here.

What they can do for themselves is pretty much a matter of their own campaigning abilities. The die is not yet cast. Five weeks remain in the campaign. Anything can happen.

DiSalle, Herbert Differ in Views

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic gubernatorial candidate Michael V. DiSalle and Republican Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert have different views on Ohio's industrial expansion program. Both spoke at suburban Upper Arlington Friday night.

DiSalle contends Ohio must face up to the job of retaining its present industrial wealth as well as attracting new industry, since the state will need another one million jobs by 1970.

Herbert, running for re-election, insists that the "thousands flocking into Ohio from Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, and Michigan" prove that the necessary job is being done.

gan with an egg and to be more exact, an egg-head. To prove their point, they formed an egg-head at midfield to the tune of "Oh Dear, What Can the Matter Be".

PUTTING their young egg-head to work the CHS musicians came up with a new rocket formula. Their remarkable discovery was that X equals X.

The musicians turned spacemen then formed a satellite in orbit, all to the tune of "Stars of the Summer Night". Their program was concluded with the playing of the "Red and Black".

Wilmington's precision drill show was performed by the band forming two company fronts on opposite ends of the field. Both fronts dropped into 4-man squads as they moved downfield.

The squads then rejoined at mid-field where they performed and played as a unit. Their program ended with the playing of Wilmington's Alma Mater.

Grid Rally Ends In General Melee

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—About 150 students turned a high school football rally into a melee Thursday night and attacked cars driven by Negroes and whites.

No injuries were reported although one white woman said she was slapped by one of the youths. The demonstration erupted at Broad and State Line avenues, on the border of Texas and Arkansas. It involved students of Texarkana, Ark., High School and Texarkana, Tex., High.

The trouble began on the Arkansas side. Police dispersed the youths. The crowd then retreated across the street to Texas and yelled curses at the Arkansas officers.

Funnyman Eyes Human Foibles

Louis Nye Is Serious In Developing Laughs

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What makes a funnyman funny?

Take the case of Louis Nye, the hep comic who helps brighten the Steve Allen hour. He is one of those rare comedians who can evoke laughter with the simplest of lines or even his mere appearance on the screen.

Yet he is no life-of-the-party type. Few real comedians are. Here for a couple of Hollywood originations of the Allen show, he discussed comedy with the serious articulation of a Madison Avenue ad man such as he has portrayed on TV.

To Nye, getting laughs is a matter of serious analysis of human foibles. He began early, playing in summer stock and on radio. More often than not, he played an intense juvenile. But the Army made him realize that comedy was his strong suit.

"I was stationed at a camp near a wild town in Missouri," he recalled. "I was in charge of the recreation hall, and I had to make the entertainment good enough to keep the young soldiers from going into town. It was a challenge and I worked hard at it. For the first time, I realized I had the ability to make people laugh."

He got more valuable experience in the Army by touring with "Winged Victory" and entertaining in hospitals. At war's end, he went back to radio and night clubs but with only mediocre success.

Fortunately, the Allen show came along and Nye was raised from merely reliable to a sure-fire laugh-getter with his Gordon Hathaway and other guises.

The question is: Where does he go from here?

"I'm under contract to the Allen show," he remarked, "but it's a strange kind of a contract. They can break it or I can break it any time. I like working with Steve and I hope to continue. I'll be happy to come out to Hollywood when Steve brings the show here next year—if they ask me."

Broncos Drop 14-6 Contest To Mt. Sterling Grid Crew

A touchdown in the first quarter and one in the last gave Mt. Sterling a 14-6 win over Ashville last night.

The Broncos tallied in the second quarter and moved all the way to the 1-foot line in the final stanza, but could not score. The Ashville drive fizzled with about two minutes to go.

Fullback Frank Gloyd accounted for Ashville's only touchdown on a smash of four yards. Varying their offense in the drive, the Broncos completed four passes in the sustained march.

Mt. Sterling's TD came on a fourth down and 22 situation. Halfback Eldon Peterson romped 50 yards on a reverse from a fake punt formation. The host team added two extra points on a pitch-out.

THE WINNERS' second score was turned in by Joe Teeters who smashed off tackle. The try for extra points was halted.

Coach Russ Gregg said his squad moved well on offense and played a commendable defensive game. Ashville picked up 10 first downs while holding Mt. Sterling to six.

Floyd was the most consistent

Cub Pack 170 Names Thompson

Melvin Thompson was elected Cubmaster of Pack 170 of the Trinity Lutheran Church at a meeting held Wednesday evening in the Church Parish House.

Other officers elected were Walter Gilmore, assistant cubmaster; Jack Funk, achievements; Robert Barnes, program; Lawrence Curl, treasurer; and Annette Merriman, secretary.

Den mothers named were Mrs. John O'Hara, Den 1; Annette Merriman, Den 3; Mrs. Emmett Evans, Den 4; Mrs. Leo Morgan, Den 5, and Mrs. Richard Benkley, Den 6.

Ten new boys were accepted by the Pack. Plans were made to build a float for the coming Pumpkin Show.

Hog Calling Contest Set for Pumpkin Show

The Pumpkin Show Hog Calling Contest, one of few such events throughout the world, will be held at 8:30 p. m. October 18 in the W. Main St. platform, during the October 15 through 18 Pumpkin Show festival.

Hog calling to many people is just to see which person can scream the loudest, but actually is an art known to few people. The event will be divided into two classes, men and women.

Stanley Stevens will judge the applause from the crowd to decide the two winners. Prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be given.

Ohio Market Hog Price Edges Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An upward trend in prices continued this week for Ohio's hog producers. On an average they received 30 cents more than last week.

Prices opened Monday at $21.25, held steady until Thursday, then dipped to $21.00, closing Friday at $20.50 to $20.75.

Choice sow prices were $19.00 to $19.50 for the first three days, then went to $18.50 to $19.00.

Ohio's 85 interior yards handled 47,550 head for the week, 4 per cent below last week and 11 per cent below a year ago.

Defensive play for the Greggmen was sparked by Bob Hoover, Dale Fout and Jim Brown. Fout and Hoover also were on the receiving end of most of the passes.

"Three Crosses of Calvary" Sermon Topic for Baptist

"The Three Crosses of Calvary" is the sermon subject chosen by the Rev. R. G. Puckett to be presented in the morning hour of worship at Circleville First Baptist Church. Rev. Puckett is the evangelist for the revival effort now in progress. Sunday School begins at 9:30 a. m. and the morning worship at 10:30 a. m.

Congregational hymns to be sung are: "At Calvary," "The Way of the Cross Leads Home" and "There Is a Fountain Filled with Blood". Hal Spencer will direct the congregational singing with Miss Melba White at the piano.

Baptist Training Union will begin Sunday at 6:30 p. m. followed by the regular evening worship service at 7:30 p. m. This will be an evangelistic service. An invitation will be given at all services, giving an opportunity for people to make decisions for Christ.

First E.U.B.

Children's Rally Day and Promotion Day will be observed at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church Sunday morning. The service begins at 9:30 a. m. Edwin Richardson, general superintendent of the Sunday School, and Mrs. Robert Dumm, children's director, will assist the pastor, the Rev. O. F. Gibbs, in the worship service.

One hundred and thirty-five children and juniors will be promoted. The church choir, directed by Montford Kirkwood Jr., will sing, "Marching to Zion" by Roger Wilson.

Miss Lucille Kirkwood, organist, announces the following numbers: Prelude, "Chant Du Matin" by Merkel; Offertory, "Prayer from Rhenz" by Wagner and Postlude, "A Glorious Postlude" by Haydn. A special offering will be received for the trustee fund.

Sunday School in the children's department will convene in the service center at 9:30 a. m. After a record of attendance and the offering has been taken they will enter the sanctuary to join with the adults in the worship service and for their Promotion exercises.

Nursery care will be provided for all children up to four years old during both the worship and Sunday School services. Church School in the youth and adult departments will meet following the worship hour. The Boy's and Girl's Fellowship will meet in the service center at 10:35 a. m.

St Philips

There will be two services of Morning Prayer and a service of Holy Communion at St. Philip's Episcopal Church Sunday morning. The service of Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a. m. by the Rev. William G. Huber with Jerry Francis as server. Following the service there will be a breakfast for the men attending. Carl Thompson is in charge.

At the 9 a. m. Family service of Morning Prayer, Ted Goodman will be acolyte in charge. The Junior choir under the direction of Mr. Jack O'Donnell will sing and organist will be Mrs. Betty Goodman. Following the service, all children attending will go to their classes, and adults will meet for their class with the director. Children of Nursery and Kindergarten age will go directly at 9 a. m. to their classes instead of attending Morning Prayer.

The Rev. Mr. Huber will preach at the 10:45 a. m. service and Stephen Ater will be acolyte in charge. Hymns to be sung include the following: "Before the Lord Jehovah's Throne," "Take My Life," and "The Son of God Goes Forth to War." The Senior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Howard Moore, will sing "Lift Thine Eyes" from the "Elijah" by Mendelssohn. Nursery supervisors for the late service will be Joan Vaughn and Sharon Thompson.

Presbyterian

"Do Not Disturb!" This theme for the 10:30 a. m. hour of worship in the Presbyterian Church Sunday will be in cooperation with the general Christian Education Day program in use among all Protestant churches that are members of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America.

The whole Christian Church, wherever Jesus Christ is acknowledged as Lord of our lives, regardless of denominational labels, has an educational task to perform. The thinking and teaching of Christ must become a vital issue in the daily faith and practice of every citizen if we are to become a Christian nation worthy of the Name of Christ.

The Christian Educational job of the Church can no longer be considered as merely the concern of women and children; "the priesthood of all believers" is a "man-sized" job and therefore essentially a man's job among all men. The Rev. Mitchell will develop the theme on the basis of the Scripture in the Gospel of St. Matthew, chapter 10, wherein Jesus the Man stands up to His enemies and challenges them to examine their souls and "clean up" their motives.

During the Bible Study hour, new Bibles will be presented by the Sunday school to the boys and girls being promoted from Primary Department to upper classes. Mr. Mitchell will assign to each a chosen passage or verse of Scripture as they receive their Bibles; something to live by from the Word of God.

As part of the worship, officers and teachers will be dedicated and installed by the pastor. Pupils will receive attendance awards by the superintendent, Ed Grigg. Christian hymns used in the service include: "Lord, Speak to Me That I May Speak;" and the Trisagion. At the organ, Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will play, "Prelude on Holy Spirit, Truth Divine" by Walton; "Andante" by Clokey and "March Pontificale" by Tombelle.

The Adult Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Clark Will, will use as the anthem, "With a Voice of Singing" by Shaw.

Christian Union

The pastor, the Rev. Richard Humble, will be the speaker in the morning worship hour which begins at 10:30 a. m. at the Church of Christ in Christian Union. Music is under the direction of E. E. Lane. There will be special music by a trio composed of Mrs. Nellie Smith, Mrs. Margaret Ramey, and Mrs. Florence Clark. Miss Sonia Leatherwood.

Sunday School will be opened at 9:30 a. m. by the superintendent, William Smith. At this time, Mrs. DuHese McCain, junior department superintendent, will lead in the opening exercises of Sunday School in the children's auditorium.

Junior church is at 10:30 a. m. during the adult worship hour. Mrs. Virginia Humble will be conducting this service.

Marvin Valentine, youth leader, will have charge of the Youth service at 6:30 p. m. There will be a comparison of different world religions presented by some of the young people.

The regular evening evangelistic service begins at 7:30 p. m.

First Methodist

Worship services will be held in First Methodist Church Sunday at 8:30 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. At the early service an organ and piano duo, "Sheep May Safely Graze", will be presented by Miss Lois Wittich and Miss Sue Ann Hammel.

The Junior Choir will sing at the 10:45 service. The anthem they have chosen is "Saviour, Hear Us, We Pray" by Johannes Brahms.

The pastor's sermon topic is "Cyclone Control." The Scripture lesson is found in Mark 4:35-41. Hymns for the congregation are: "We Bear the Strain of Earthly Care", "From Every Stormy Wind", and "If, On a Quiet Sea."

At 9:30 a. m. a special service of promotion will be held in the sanctuary for the Sunday School classes.

Trinity Lutheran

The duplicate worship services at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m. in Trinity Lutheran Church Sunday will be conducted by Pastor Carl G. Zehner. "Misuse Of The Kingdom" is the sermon theme chosen by Pastor Zehner which he bases on Luke 12:16-21. This is one of a series of sermons based on the Parables of our Lord.

The Youth Choir, under the direction of Clifford Kerns, will lead the singing at the early service. At the late service, the Adult Choir, led by Carl C. Leist, will present special music.

Sunday School will be held at 9:30 a. m. with classes for all ages.

Mrs. Karl Herrmann will preside at the organ at both services Sunday. The Nursery will be open during the 10:45 a. m. service in the Parish House.

The Family Circle will meet at 6:30 p. m. Sunday in the Parish House. It will be a carry-in dinner.

Calvary E.U.B.

At the morning worship service at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church which begins at 9 a. m., Rev. H. Dale Rough will present the sermon entitled, "Beacon Lights in Life".

Mrs. Earl Millirons will play the organ prelude and will accompany the congregation in the singing of hymns: "Come We Who Love The Lord", "The Light of the World Is Jesus" and "A Charge To Keep I Have".

This Sunday is Rally Day in the Sunday School. An effort is being made to have a full attendance in all of the departments of the Sunday School. Mr. Earl Millirons is the Superintendent.

The Children's department will meet in the annex under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Shasteen. Children's Sunday School class period 9-10 a. m., the Junior Worship service at 10-10:45 a. m.

The Youth Fellowship at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church will meet on Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m. in the annex.

To: Bobby's Church School Teacher
From: Bobby's Parents

"You're O.K."

That's the highest praise in our Bobby's vocabulary!

You must be as busy as we are . . . keeping house, raising a family, meeting all the challenges of parenthood.

Yet you volunteered to teach a dozen boisterous boys the great truths of Christianity.

You sacrifice hours every week . . . in preparation, in prayer, in patience.

But, because you are part of the Church—the one institution which lives to serve God and man—we have taken you for granted.

We'll be at worship next Sunday. Bobby wants us there. And seeing what the Church means to him, we want the same spiritual foundation for our own lives.

Thank you! We marvel at all you have done for Bobby without our help and example. How much more we will accomplish together . . . Bobby's parents, Bobby's teacher, and OUR God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We Need More Automation

One of the best defenses of automation—if any defense is needed—may be found in a remark made the other day by Henry B. duPont to the Instrument Society of America. He said the average American at work will have to double his production rate by 1978 "if present gains in education, leisure and living standards are to continue at the rate they have in the past."

Human labor alone cannot do it, with the labor force "expected to increase less than 20 per cent." The hope, said Mr. duPont, is for continued advances of technology. That means a large measure of automation, which in turn means the myriads of instruments that do what human hands could never do.

It would take a physical chemist to appreciate, fully, this from Mr. duPont: "Instruments can now identify and classify the free radicals whose life span is reckoned in fractions of one-millionth of a second."

But listen to this: "There are instruments so sensitive that they will detect a leak so minute that it would require 25 years for a single centimeter of air to escape from a vessel." This, said the speaker, means that at the same rate an ordinary auto tire "would still be reasonably firm after 900,000 years."

Samuel Johnson is quoted by Boswell thus: "there is nothing, sir, too little for so little a creature as man. It is by studying little things that we attain the great art of having as little misery and as much happiness as possible."

Johnson might have been speaking for the industrial chemical business for the year 1958.

Don't Tell the Little Woman

The National Manpower Council comes out with a statement that has the sound of doom. "If all the nation's working wives quit their jobs," it says, "the economy would collapse."

Senses reeling, one can only hasten to take comfort in that great big "if" that starts the sentence. And sure enough, there's not a word in the news story to suggest that any such general female strike is in the wind. On the contrary, nothing but the solidest reassurance can be found in the news report on the volume entitled "Work in the Lives of Married Women" as published by the Manpower Council.

Still and all, many readers will be conscious of feeling just a bit disturbed by that first-quoted statement, iffy though it may be. Doesn't a "manpower council" take a big risk in raising such a question about womanpower—and then being so all-fired positive that all those 13 million woman dare to tell her that she is a statistic in the nation's economy? That he is counting on her to help maintain the Manpower Council's reputation as a forecaster of economic trends in America?

Anyhow, the fat's in the fire. Women, alas, can read. It can only be hoped that the husbands of America will not lightly or recklessly discuss with their wives this tremendous power now so clearly seen in the hands of working wives.

Better to show them how much their labor is appreciated. Then they'll keep on at their office or factory jobs just as if they hadn't heard that the economy would collapse if they all decided to stay home for a while.

We All Will Live Longer

Sometimes it takes only some statistics to call attention to what should be obvious to anybody with eyes to see and read with: The Health Information Foundation of New York now offers some comforting data which it contrasts with the high divorce rates. "A much lower proportion of marriages is dissolved by death nowadays than 50 years ago."

Anyone reading further will soon perceive that sentence should have read "early death." For "Widowhood has been largely postponed to a time when responsibility for minor children has ended." And "The average parent has a much greater chance of seeing his children grow up." Than formerly, that is.

Better control of diseases, better care for the human mechanism—more people live to a healthy old age. And who can feel anything but satisfaction that he stands to live a long time (barring wars)?

Well, is there a faint, small voice from some of the anthropologists? One of them remarked recently that modern security against bodily ills is sure to preserve a much larger percentage of the congenitally weak or unfit as breeders.

There's no denying that until the advent of modern civilization, the survival of the fittest despite plagues and malnutrition must have had an effect on the human race. But the fittest should still survive longer.

For better or worse—and the preponderance of evidence is that it's for better—the increased longevity of today is a solid fact.

Economy Key to Survival

By George Sokolsky

Prejudice is usually a self-satisfaction. I am better than thou... therefore I dislike thee. In the United States a prejudice exists against the British; in Canada, a prejudice exists against the United States; in England, a prejudice exists against the Irish. So, it goes around the world but it is meaningless in the context of the universal state of affairs.

We cannot afford the luxury of prejudice because should war come, we, of the English-speaking countries—to establish a category—will either stand or fall together. Can Canada defend itself from an attack either by Russia or by the United States? Obviously, there is not a chance.

Can the United States defend itself without using the tundras of Canada for its radar devices and its northern waters for submarine bases and other bases we do not know of? Not a chance! Geography pays no attention to lines drawn on maps by statesmen.

It is beyond possibility that should war come, the United States and Canada will not be forced to become an economic union. Politically they may continue to go their separate ways but will that matter? The same will be true of Great Britain and the United States which will face the need for mutual support and the support will have to be economic.

It will not be Great Britain living off the United States and Canada, as some believe, but rather that there will be a combining of resources and skills to meet an emergency that eerily laughs at the schemes of men. It will all have to happen quickly or it will be too late.

One sits today and watches the politics of men who seek to delay the inevitable. And what is that inevitable? It is that the challenge of Soviet Russia is no longer Communism; the challenge of Soviet Russia and Red China and the United Arab Republic is imperialism.

These are the three great empires of our era and we live in the peripheral small countries that will either unite against the empires economically as well as politically or they will not survive. The empires are growing and the response to their challenge must be growth and strength among those who oppose them.

The European Common Market is a sound response to the challenge of the empires. It is a pooling of resources and skills by the nations of Europe. The British have opposed it on the theory that there is still a shilling to be made out of going it alone.

Once Gen. Charles de Gaulle's constitution is adopted for the Fifth French Republic, France will come to closer terms with West Germany and it is likely that a pooling of resources and skills will take place in Europe under the leadership of France and West Germany.

Against such competition, Great Britain will not be able to go it alone, because it is possible that the only markets that will be left open to Great Britain will be within her own commonwealth and the United States. In the Western world, no nation, economically, can any longer go it alone.

The aim of Soviet Russia is to separate all the nations of the Western world and to foster prejudice and hate among them. To a degree, Soviet Russia has been successful in this. The British Labour Party, for instance, has adopted an absurd anti-

American position on many questions. It is too late for that kind of politics in either country.

A shift from a petroleum economy to an atomic economy would be advantageous to Great Britain which then would be free from the need of importing huge quantities of essential fuel from the Arabian Empire. Uranium comes to Great Britain from Canada and the Congo and Canada can supply all that is necessary.

In a word, the problems of strength for the Western world lie not in politics but in economics. Economic unions for defense from the empires are essential to the defense of Western civilization. An economic union among the English-speaking peoples may be the most successfully aggressive step toward asserting strength before World War III comes.

It may have the military force of a new unconventional weapon like the atom bomb or the Sputnik. But it must come quickly because what is happening over Formosa proves what a narrow margin in time we have.

HE'S SEGREGATED—Arkansas' Gov. Orval Faubus seems to have segregated himself from the other governors at the Southern Governors conference in Frankfort, Ky. Why not? That's Sandra Sue Smith, this year's "Miss Kentucky."

Yellow Fever Is Near U.S.

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

There are many serious diseases which we don't hear much about any more. Yet, they still are lurking around, just waiting for us to lower our guard.

Some time ago, I advised you that the plague was still potentially a serious threat in certain countries. Public health officials, however, are constantly taking routine precautions which prevent it from getting out of hand and becoming a menace in our country.

The same is true of yellow jack, or yellow fever. Once it took countless lives. Today, we seldom hear anything about it. But the Aedes aegypti, that is the yellow fever mosquito, still exists. He is a great deal closer than you think.

While we have had virtually no cases of yellow fever in the United States in the last two generations, public health officials generally consider this disease is one of the most explosive health threats presently hanging over our nation.

The yellow fever mosquito, you see, abounds in many cities in the southern third of the United States. They do not transmit the disease because there are no yellow fever victims for them to feed upon. However, a case of yellow jack arriving in the South from a yellow fever area could touch off an epidemic.

Yellow fever can be found in areas less than four hours by plane from the United States. As far back as 1932, it looked as though the once dreaded disease was on the verge of extinction in the Americas. There was only a single small area in Brazil where the disease still existed. Suddenly, the disease broke out in the rural areas of Brazil!

Health authorities were puzzled because the Aedes aegypti is strictly an urban type of mosquito. Investigators then discovered a jungle form of yellow fever which was transmitted by jungle varieties of mosquitoes. Under favorable circumstances this was transmitted in the usual form of yellow jack.

Thus far efforts to eliminate the jungle mosquitoes or the birds and monkeys, which serve as the jungle fever reservoir, have been unsuccessful. In fact, the jungle disease has spread steadily northward.

In 1950, it jumped the Panama Canal. Last year it reached the end of the tropical jungle in southern Mexico. Once it reached into Port of Spain, Trinidad, and once into Caracas, Venezuela. Outbreaks in both cities were caught early.

Health authorities say we should clean up the Aedes aegypti in the South and strengthen our vaccine defenses with our yellow fever vaccine.

Question and Answer

Q. Is a gallbladder operation in a 70-year-old person considered more hazardous than in a younger person?

A. Because of the tremendous strides that have been made in anesthesia and surgery, the risk in a gallbladder operation, as a rule, is no greater in an older person than would be involved in carrying out the same procedure in a younger person.

American Girl in Russia

In Soviet, Church Folk Say: 'We Pray, Don't Criticize'

By BEVERLY DEEPE

Written for The Associated Press

Below me was a mass of praying humanity. The wooden benches were invisible under the crowd. People stood on the stairways. They were packed six deep in the side door which opened onto a pile of rubble.

This was a Baptist church service in Moscow which I was visiting as a member of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. student exchange. Two other members and Victor, our Russian translator, came to church with me.

An elderly man in a dark gray suit at the church door motioned us upstairs to the balcony. All the seats in the church were filled, except for a long narrow visitors' bench next to the railing.

The old women among the 1,500 worshippers wore black or brown dresses with white or printed bandanas. Only three wore dark straw hats with simple trim.

Old men with white beards and mangy suits were sprinkled throughout the congregation.

And although the Communist line says religion is for old women—I noticed about every fifth person in the congregation looked under 35.

(The American Baptist Convention headquarters in New York says the Baptist Church in the Soviet Union has grown from 28,900 members in 1912 to 530,000 members today. Baptists say 8,000 converts have been baptized since Jan. 1, 1958, and more are on probation).

Between each verse of the hymn, the music stopped and the minister recited the next one. There were no hymnals in the church. Some members carried the verses in books printed in the old pre-Revolutionary orthography. Many carried the verses in their hearts.

I shall remember this singing for years—a slow, melancholy, almost despairing singing that reverberated from the high white ceiling and the undecorated walls.

The minister's sermon interwove Scripture readings with Christian principles to be followed by the congregation. A woman across from me wiped her eyes as the minister instructed the worshippers to remain strong despite many troubles and temptations. I saw other women blowing their noses.

A stifled sobbing rose throughout the congregation when the closing prayer asked forgiveness for wrongdoing and Christian acts omitted from their lives.

Throughout the service, white slips of paper fluttered from the balcony and were passed to the front of the room. From them, a minister read greetings from other Baptist churches behind the Iron Curtain. The congregation responded: "Greetings." Other messages requested prayers for the sick.

As we left the church, Victor—a member of the Young Communist League—said: "It was jammed. This surprised me."

It surprised me, too, for I kept thinking of the pressures against church going which I had noted in this atheistic society—a society which pulls children from worship on Sunday morning for a movie sponsored by Communist youth organizations.

This is a society in which a Russian Orthodox professor repeats the Soviet government line on why the Russian Orthodox Church in the United States and the Soviet Union are separated.

"Heretics won't recognize the power of the metropolitan in Moscow because of their own political views and because they are supported by the U.S. government," he said.

This is a society whose Academy of Science and Museum of Religion in Leningrad labels the Roman Catholic Pope as "the banker and capitalist" and terms the Vatican "the great financial center."

And I thought: Religion in the Soviet Union can meet these obstacles only with tears such as I saw in this service, and the words: "We pray. We don't criticize."

'Natural Food' Group To Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) 8The people who want to teach others the value of natural food grown on fertile soil will hold their annual convention here Saturday and Sunday.

It will be a meeting of the Ohio Natural Food Associates, an organization founded in 1953. It has some 10,000 members in 48 states and 18 foreign countries. The Ohio chapter has 700 members.

The group believes that cancer, diabetes, arthritis, heart diseases, dental cares and many other afflictions can be prevented only through proper nutrition. They say this means "natural food grown on fertile soil, eaten fresh and poison-free."

$1.06 a Bushel Support Price Set On Corn by Benson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson set a support price of $1.06 a bushel today for 1958-crop corn grown out of compliance with a federal control program.

This compares with $1.36 for corn grown in compliance with the program.

This means that farmers who planted within federal corn acreage allotment will get supports at the higher rate and the others at the lower rate.

These two rates apply in a designated commercial producing area comprising 932 major corn-producing counties in 26 Midwestern, Eastern and Southeastern states. The prices are national average figures, the actual rate varying slightly from area to area.

Mrs. Simons New Secretary For AAUW Group

Mrs. William Simons was appointed to serve as the corresponding secretary this year for the American Assn. of University Women when it met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Harold Clifton, S. Court St.

Mrs. William Speakman, president, presided over the business session. Reports from the chairmen of standing committees were given at this time.

Mrs. James Shank was in charge of the program. She used as her topic the new educational center of the AAUW in Washington D. C. She said, "the building will house the association administrative offices and professional staff, which will develop study materials for publication and provide program services to branches and states in the fields of elementary, secondary and higher education; international relations, social and economic issues, states of women, legislation and arts."

She concluded, "in addition, the new building will serve as a meeting place for member, as well as a place where women from other countries will be welcomed and where they will find a stimulating intellectual center. It will stand as a reminder to the public as the place of educated women in American life."

Along with her topic, Mrs. Shank presented slides of the new building and the old one.

The group voted to sell candy as one of its projects for the year.

Don E. Meyers Speaker For BP Women's Club Dinner

"Achieve Through Action" was the theme for the Thirtieth Anniversary of the Public Affairs and Public Relations Committees dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Circleville held Thursday evening at The Wardell Party Home.

Don E. Meyers, assistant sales manager, of Lincoln Molded Plastics, Inc. of this city was guest speaker, using as his subject "Plastics in the Home."

Meyers stated plastics were invented in 1868, and are of chemical composition. Under Theroplastic, we have polystyrene, acetate, polyethylene, nylon, vinyl, acrylic and butyrate. Under Thermosetting plastics we have urea, phenolics, polyester and melomene.

An interesting movie was shown by Meyers depicting the various uses of plastics, to enumerate a few are roofing, chairs, table-tops, lounges, draperies, dishes, boats, wall-tile, refrigerator parts, playing cards, raincoats, phonograph records, awnings, cars, swimming pools, wading pools, screens, vinyl floor tile, lamp shades, radio and TV cabinets, toys, housewares. Plastic colors do not fade and can be easily cleaned. They can be painted and will not rust. Eighty per cent of Lincoln's molded parts are made of Polystyrene.

Dr. Nancy Conrad gave an interesting and informative talk on Public Affairs and Public Relations pertaining to club activities.

Present at the meeting was Miss Mary K. Kennedy, 3rd Vice President of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Harold Deffenbaugh presided at the short business session following the program. Announcement was made that National Business Women's Week, will be celebrated by the local club, October 5-11th.

Miss Clarissa Talbot, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee and Mrs. Anna Chandler, chairman of Public Relations Committee, were in charge of the meeting.

"Glory" Theme For WWSW Group

"Glory of the Church" was the theme used when the St. Paul Women's Society of World Service met Wednesday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Ralph DeLong and her daughter, Lydia were the hostesses.

The general theme for the new year for the group will be "Thine is the Glory." Mrs. Oakley Leist and Mrs. Arthur Leist opened the meeting with a vocal duet, "The Church by the Side of the Road." Devotions were led by Mrs. Loring Leist.

Readings, "I am the Church" and "Beautiful Church" were given by Mrs. Cliff Hedges. The scripture lesson was given by Mrs. Forest Valentine. Mrs. D. A. Marshall and Mrs. Edwin Jones gave prayers for the church. A dialogue entitled "Christian Living" was presented by Mrs. Loring Leist and Mrs. Hedges.

Mrs. Ralph DeLong closed the devotions by reading the article "Clock and Calendar Christians." Mrs. Oakley Leist, vice-president, presided over the business session. Announcements were made for the Fall Institute at the Burgess Ave. Church, Columbus, October 2nd; World Day of Prayer, October 5th and the Morris EUB Ladies Aid will be guests of the group's on October 9.

Group singing from the hymnals was the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Oakley Leist led the singing and Mrs. Ralph DeLong accompanied on the piano. Mrs. Oakley Leist and Mrs. Lowell Bassett will be hostesses for the next meeting on October 29.

At the close of the meeting, lunch was served.

Household Hints

Spread a slice of bread (after cutting off the crust) with cream-style cottage cheese; cut in two triangles and sandwich together. Spread outside of sandwich with soft butter or margarine and toast in a hot oven for about five minutes. Serve with strawberry jam and tea.

Wife Preservers

Gleazed wall tiles will take on new luster with a sponging of ammonia water.

AN ENORMOUS cape collar covers the shoulder line of a natural ranch mink coat. The sleeves are slim with narrow cuffs; the hemline closing is softly curved. It is from Leo Ritter's fall and winter collection.

GOP Boosters Hold First Fall Meeting

Mrs. George Mavis, 423 Half Ave. was hostess on Thursday when GOP Boosters met for the first fall meeting.

The Pledge of Allegiance, led by Mrs. H. E. Valentine, opened the meeting followed by group singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Miss Lucille Dumm conducted the business hour and presented, "A Profile of Sixth qualifications and why he would do a good job in congress were given."

A lengthy discussion on The Right to Work law was also held. Points for and against it were presented. Miss Dumm stated that each person should vote his own way and not as someone else tells him. The ballot is absolutely secret and protects the rights of all citizens regardless of some false information which is sometimes given.

Plans to participate in the coming Buffalo Barbecue to be held at the Fairgrounds on September 30 were completed. The Hon. John W. Bricker, U. S. Senator will be the principal speaker.

Lunch was served at a large table and games and contests followed with prizes going to Mrs. Charles W. Winner, Mrs. Roy Dumm and Miss Dumm.

Mrs. Marion I. Smith will be hostess for the October meeting.

Wiener Roast Planned by Class

The Tri-M Class of the First Methodist Church is having a wiener roast at 3 p. m. Sunday at Logan Elm Park.

Philip and Sandra Jo get license.

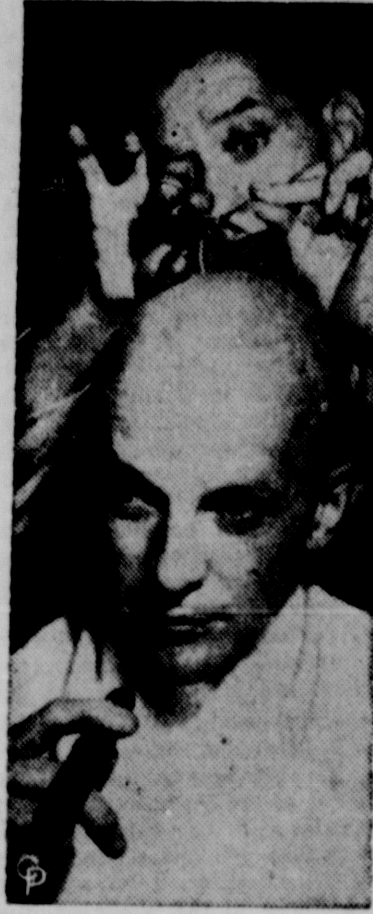

Lindsay in court.

HAPPINESS AND TROUBLE came on the same day for two of the Crosby brothers, Philip, 24, and Lindsay, 20, sons of Bing, nee Harry Lillis. Philip got a marriage license with showgirl Sandra Jo Drummond, 20, in Las Vegas, Nev. Meanwhile, back in Hollywood Lindsay was in court pleading innocent to a drunk driving charge growing out of an accident which occurred Sept. 11. Officers said he failed a sobriety test after his car struck a parked car. Bail, $253, trial Oct. 20.

CAUGHT AFTER CHASE—A wild ride from Baltimore, Md., ends for James Leroy Smith (left), 20, of Washington, D. C., shown after he was arrested in New Canaan, Conn. He forced a taxi driver to take him to Connecticut where he "was going to shoot his wife." The driver escaped in Greenwich, Conn., and Smith picked up Anthony Marchand (right), 14, as a hostage. When police began closing in, Marchand deflected Smith's aim as the hunted man attempted to shoot it out with pursuers.

Midwest Grid Roundup

Badgers Have Some Depth For Role of Contender

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is another in a series on the major football teams in the Midwest.

MADISON, Wis. — Football fortunes at the University of Wisconsin won't be on a lower plane this year even though a big excavation project lowered the football field so that 10,000 extra seats could be installed in the Camp Randall stadium.

"I like our depth and overall team speed," said Milt Bruhn in diagnosing his Badgers just before the opener. "I'm a bit concerned about our guard posts and center and I'd sure like to have a good break-away back."

The Badgers, who came on last year to finish with a 6-3 record, losing to the champion Ohio State

Bucks by a mere three points, have 26 lettermen back, with fine depth at tackle and experience at every position.

Gone is Danny Lewis, the outstanding back, but returning to key the backfield is Sid Williams, the quarterbacking guy who is playing left half. Bruhn's quarterback this year will be Dale Hackbart, a junior, who is good all-around and improving his passing, but Bruhn hopes Shorty Young, a sophomore, will come along to understudy Hackbart so that he can keep Williams in the game at all times. Williams is the best defensive back on the team.

"You have to have a good defensive team in this league," says Bruhn, "and I feel we will have one. A few years ago we could count on only 15 players who had to be in there at all times, but I think we have 20 now that we can count on."

The team's line reads from left to right: Dave Kocurek, 6' 4" at left end; George Lanphear, left tackle; Jim Fraser, left guard; Dick Teteak, center; Jerry Stalcup, right guard; Jim Heineke, right tackle, and Earl Hill, another 6' 4" giant, at right end. To get weight, Bruhn can use Lowell Jenkins at right tackle. He weighs 243.

Bruhn is worried a bit about the second string ends, but feels that Hank Derleth and Don Vandervelden have shown enough promise. Paul Schwaiko, who has been in the Army, is back and is a left guard candidate. Bob Nelson, at 245, is understudy to Teteak at center.

Hackbart, the team's second leading rusher last year, is the quarterback with a soph, Shorty Young, underneath although Williams, who was the team's top passer last year, also "can take over here although he will start at left half.

At left half under Williams is Ron Steiner, who scored four touchdowns last year. Ed Hart, who averaged 5.5 yards a carry last year, is the right half with Bob Zeman, who shared the starting role with John Hobbs at fullback, paired with him. Hobbs is the fullback, but Tom Wiesner, a soph who showed promise in the spring game, is giving him a battle for it.

Schwaiko, who won a letter here as a member of the 1952 Wisconsin team, Hobbs and tackle Karl Holzwarth are the place kickers. Wisconsin opens against two non-conference foes in Miami and Marquette and then gets into a tough Big Ten schedule of Purdue, Iowa, Ohio State, Michigan State, Northwestern, Illinois and Minnesota.

Durocher Picks Braves To Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Lippy Leo Durocher picks the Milwaukee Braves to win the World Series. Never one to mince words, the former major league manager turned radio-television executive said today the Braves have too much pitching, power and all-around strength for the New York Yankees.

"There's no doubt in my mind the Braves will win," said Durocher. "I've felt that way all along. They're a good, solid ball club and they have something very important working for them this year — they know they can beat the Yankees because they did it last year."

Demon Places Third

Steamin' Demon, a black horse owned by George W. Van Camp, placed third in the first leg of the Suburban Downs trotting classic held at Maywood Park last night.

Placing first was Darn Safe, owned by Hayes Fair Acres of Du Quoin, Ill., before a crowd of 5,317. Steamin' Demon is the famous pacer turned trotter, who has had an exceptional first year of racing among the trotters.

Bosox Batsmen Ties for AL Slugging Title

Williams, Runnels To Settle Affair In Next Two Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two days to go and it's Ted Williams and Boston teammate Pete Runnels deadlocked for the American League batting lead at .326.

Williams, shooting for his sixth title at 40, took the lead in the first game of a two-night double-header at Washington Friday night. But when he sat out the nightcap, Runnels came scrapping back as the Red Sox took third place with a 6-4 and 3-1 sweep.

Beyond the bat race, the big news in the AL was another fine pitching job by Whitey Ford in his tuneup for the world series opener, although the champion New York Yankees lost 3-2 to Baltimore in 12 innings.

The stubby southpaw gave up only one hit—Joe Taylor's inside-the-park homer in the first—and allowed but one base runner before retiring at the end of six innings. Ford, who struck out six, has allowed just one run in his last of arm trouble.

Cleveland defeated Detroit 5-4 and the Chicago White Sox beat Kansas City 1-0 on rookie Barry Latman's three-hitter in the other AL games.

Williams walloped his 24th home run and a single in three at bats in the opener. Runnels, holding a .324 to .320 edge before he went hitless in the first game, was 2-for-5 in the nightcap.

Willie Mays couldn't do anything but hit against St. Louis pitching last weekend as he took the National League batting lead from Richie Ashburn, who couldn't do a thing against Pittsburgh.

Now Ashburn's back on top, after clipping the Pirates for a 2-for-4 performance Friday night while Mays went hitless against the Cardinals.

Ashburn scored the winning run as Philadelphia defeated 22-game winner Bob Friend 3-2 and gained a point for a 3449 average. Mays grounded out, flew out and hit into a doubleplay, losing two points for a 3441 average, as San Francisco beat St. Louis 4-3.

While the batting race continued to run hot, Red Burdette became a 20-game winner for the first time in his final tuneup for the world series, as the champion Milwaukee Braves beat Cincinnati 2-1.

Los Angeles and the Chicago Cubs remained tied for sixth, splitting a two-night pair in the other NL games. The Dodgers won 6-3 then lost 2-1.

Outfielder Leon Wagner of the San Francisco Giants smashed 51 home runs for Danville, Va., in 1956.

2 Teams Win League Tests

Circleville and Washington C.H. picked up opening wins in the South Central Ohio League last night.

The locals blasted Wilmington, 21-12, and Washington C.H. gained a 38-8 decision at Hillsboro in the only league games scheduled.

Greenfield, last year's SCOL champs, played Chillicothe to an 8-8 deadlock. It was the second tie game for Greenfield, the first being a 6-6 outcome with Jackson two weeks ago.

Franklin Heights, newest member of the league, dropped a 26-14 test to Columbus St. Charles.

Columbus Rosary, defeating Circleville 6-0 last week, swamped Reynoldsburg 52-0 last night.

Cleveland Needs Just 1 More Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — It will take just one more victory for the Cleveland Indians to nail down a first division finish.

Big Cal McLish will take the mound for the Tribe today, opposing the Detroit Tigers' Paul Foytack. The Tigers and Boston Red Sox are still scrambling with the Indians for third place.

Rocky Colavito kept the Tribe in contention by smacking his 40th homer of the season and driving in the game-winning run with a single in the ninth against the Tigers Friday night. Cleveland won 5-4.

Colavito's two-run homer made him the third Indian in modern-day baseball to hit 40 homers or more in a season. Hal Trosky with 42 in 1936 and Al Rosen with 43, the club record, in 1953, were the others.

Redlegs Happy With Jim O'Toole

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Cincinnati's Redlegs lost the game and lost the last chance for a third-place league tie, but team brass just smiled cannily Friday night. They liked what they saw.

The big show was a strapping 21-year-old named Jim O'Toole who in seven innings held the pennant-winning Milwaukee Braves to four hits and two runs — one of them unearned.

A year ago at this time, he was toiling in the scholastic vineyards of the University of Wisconsin.

Outfielder Leon Wagner of the San Francisco Giants smashed 51 home runs for Danville, Va., in 1956.

Los Angeles and the Chicago Cubs remained tied for sixth, splitting a two-night pair in the other NL games. The Dodgers won 6-3 then lost 2-1.

Yankee Sailors Again Grab America's Cup for Yachting

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — America's Cup will stay in its glass case in a room above the bar of the New York Yacht Club.

Any faint hopes that it would go to Great Britain sank Friday in the bubbling wake of the United States' Cup defender, Columbia.

The powerhouse American 12-meter yacht clinched the Cup with her fourth straight victory over the British challenger, Sceptre, which sailed almost half the race with a crippled rig.

Her thick aluminum alloy boom had snapped in two in a freak accident when a spinnaker sheet got caught under it.

The British said the things they have been saying since 1851 after seventeen fruitless tries to wrench the cup free from America.

"I quite frankly don't think we shall ever give up trying for the Cup," said Hugh Goodson, a member of the syndicate that owns Sceptre.

Sceptre's designer, David Boyd Sr., a quiet Scotsman, had little comment on Sceptre's design, his first for a 12-meter yacht. But if he were going to build another 12, Boyd said "I think I'd ask Olin Stephens to let me look at the lines of Columbia." Stephens designed Columbia.

Briggs Cunningham, Columbia's skipper, his shaggy hair still damp from the salt spray, said he was "terribly disappointed Sceptre did not go any faster. It's a let down, an anticlimax," said the millionaire sportsman who has spent all summer racing Columbia in elimination trials.

Cunningham and his crew will be host tonight for the British sailors at Beachbound, the rock-like mansion he rented for Columbia's men this summer. It will be about as close as the two crews have been to each other in a week of racing.

Friday's concluding race was cut from the same pattern as the others. Sailed in a 16-20 mile an hour southwest wind, it saw Columbia outpoint and outsail Sceptre both into and away from the wind.

And what with all her other troubles, Sceptre was stricken with an almost impossible chain of catastrophes. First a Genoa sheet caught and had to be cut away.

Then the boom broke. "We thought the broken ends might hit some one," said Sceptre's assistant helmsman, Colin Ratsey.

After a hurried conference in the cockpit, the crew splinted the boom with a spinnaker pole and raced on. Then the other spinnaker boom broke.

"The gremlins were at us today," said Ratsey.

The series, the first since 1937, was the fourteenth shutout by American yachts. In 54 races, the challengers have won only five times.

Garden Gossip

Miss Martha Hitler, 490 E. Franklin St. has a white buddleia that is a pretty specimen indeed. She says it truly attracts butterflies. Buddleia has the common name of butterfly bush. According to Miss Hitler there was a time when hummingbirds also hovered near the bush. She wonders if the poison sprays have been harmful to hummingbirds which she never sees anymore.

Miss Hitler also has a coffee nut tree. The nuts are like buckeyes except they are about the size of a nickel. We assumed they were not edible. But she has an English walnut tree that will have edible nuts. It grew from a nut which grew on a tree which grew from a nut given to her brother by the late Gus Schleyer.

Hold everything if you've had it in your head to homestead in Alaska! We understand that the tomato crop does not have a chance to mature there. The best you can do if you want homegrown tomatoes is to pick them green and wrap them in paper.

Mrs. Robert Bates, N. Court St., had a rose which measured at least 6 inches in diameter. It was Volcano, one of her first and most loved roses. Volcano is red. Naturally! But the old petals do have a blue cast.

Jerome Warner, E. Franklin St. has enormous castor bean plants—higher than the eaves of his garage. And last year they were much larger.

The dahlia show in Chillicothe was a fantastic event. Generally we only give specimen flowers in a flower show, a passing glance. But even to the uninitiated the difference in size and form and color in dahlia specimens is amazing. Some of the Pompons were under two inches and the large dahlias were surely 15 or 16 inches in diameter.

I managed to get my husband to the dahlia show by dint of telling him that there wouldn't be anybody there he knew. He would rather be caught stealing than be seen at a flower show by his livestock associates.

Well we discovered the common name for Desmodium, the plant Mrs. Hornbeck brought to garden club for identification. It is purple bush-clover and is an ornamental lespedeza.

Speaking of common names, although it's not very scientific for a garden editor, we love them. In fact we are real pushovers for quaint names. In our day we have planted, Love Lies Bleeding, Kiss Me Over the Garden Fence, Love in the Midst, Devil in the Bush (same thing) and Jacob's Coat. We planted them just because the names intrigued us. This year it was a double morning glory named Tinkerbell's Petticoat. Tinkerbell's Petticoat is double alright but the flowers are few and far between. Our plants all went to foliage.

Hardy asters at their loveliest may be seen in Mrs. Ella Hornbeck's garden, Pinckney St. When we went around to the garden her son-in-law was sitting on the porch. He told us to wait on the porch because it was too hot for Mrs. Hornbeck to go in the garden. When he returned he said, "Well she's out in the garden now". She was staking her asters.

Area Dahlia Growers Win Blue Ribbons

Chillicothe Show Draws 3,000 Entries. In Specimen Class

More than 3,000 dahlias were on display at the Scioto Valley Dahlia Society Show last Saturday and Sunday at the Junior Fair Building of the Ross County Fairgrounds.

Presley Caldwell won two top awards when he received the Rufus Camelin Memorial Trophy for Kemp's Memorial, the largest and deepest dahlia in the show.

He also won the American Home Achievement award for his Caldwell pink beauty, a new seedling. Caldwell is a Ross County farmer and is the brother of H. O. Caldwell of Lockbourne.

Entries were made by dahlia growers in West Virginia and Kentucky as well as Ohio persons as far away as Cleveland and Cincinnati. The 3,000 blooms were entered by not more than 30 exhibitors.

Pickaway County and Kingston were well represented among the winners in the arrangement division of the show. Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Ashville, took nine blue ribbons (she believes, but she actually had not counted them and left them for a further score tally.)

LORING HILL, Kingston, president of the dahlia society, took five ribbons, three blues and two third awards.

Mrs. Edith Koch, Route 2, Ashville, won several ribbons in the seedling classes. If these prize winning dahlias come true to form and color for the next two years they may be named and placed on the market.

some wheat left standing on the John Mast farm. It was bent and brown and did not look too inviting. She gave it a cloxox bleach and straightened out the stems and she says that now it is lovely.

We understand that teal takes on a new blonde beauty when given the cloxox treatment—a good soaking in half cloxox, half water.

Charles Camp, E. Mound St., has some mighty big cabbages in his vegetable garden. We wanted his picture with a head of cabbage. He convinced us we ought to wait because in about three weeks (Pumpkin Show time) they'll be three times as big.

Mrs. Harl Speakman, Route 1, Kingston, has an interesting coleus. When she planted it out this summer it was a fairly beat-up specimen that she used for slipping. Now it's 2 feet in diameter with a thick stalk that makes it look like a symmetrical little tree.

Loring Hill, Kingston, is decorating the church at Whisler for the 99th anniversary celebration home coming to be held Sunday. This is a Presbyterian Church. He's planning to include celosia in his arrangements.

Mrs. George Huskey, Saltcreek Twp. horticulturist, insists that common names are confusing. She was amazed to discover that people here called peppers, mangoes.

Freezer Filled, Gardener Fishes

Farie Lemaster, 663 E. Mound St., deserves the reputation he has acquired as an excellent gardener. We visited his garden this week and talked with him about raising vegetables.

Lemaster coasts during September as far as garden work is concerned. No wonder! The Lemaster freezer is packed to the brim with green beans, sweet corn, mustard greens, spinach and kale. The shelves are filled with canned apple sauce, tomatoes, raspberries and blueberries.

Still growing in the garden are rows of endive, carrots, turnips, tomatoes and growing on the fence are little tree melons almost ripe.

Lemaster harvested 20 bushels of Early Ohio potatoes from 40 pounds of seed potatoes.

So with all this work behind him, Lemaster takes September off to go fishing. In October, after frost, he'll plow his garden with his small tractor, plowing in the compost and be ready for next year. Lemaster sets great store by his small gasoline tractor and uses it for cultivating his vegetables in the summer. "No hoeing for me", he says.

LEMMASTER LIKES vegetables but he included a row of asters in the garden for Mrs. Lemaster. He also grows castor beans which he calls dog beans. He says they are given this name because the seeds look precisely like dog ticks.

Mrs. Lemaster is a World War I French war bride. We asked her about French cookery. She is strictly an American cook. And according to her husband he can beat her culinary achievements when it comes to pickling beans. Lemaster decided that their surplus beans should be pickled. So, he pickled them himself.

Yes, he could tell us how to pickle beans. However Mrs. Lemaster got out the cookbook to show us the recipe he followed.

It is: Wash and string green beans. Do not break. Boil beans three minutes. Cover beans with brine made of ¼ cup of salt, one cup vinegar and two quarts of boiling water. Use plate to keep beans under brine. Let stand two or three weeks until fermentation has stopped, removing scum every

In Florida mangoes are a big fruit.

Mrs. James Brigner, E. Mound St. has eight beautiful tuberous rooted begonias. Mrs. Brigner says the tubers cost almost nothing, 10 cents apiece. She bought them with a certificate found in the Mother's Oats carton. She says the Mother's Oats People have this offer each spring. I am certainly going to eat more rolled oats about next April. Mrs. Brigner just leaves the tubers in the flower pots to winter over.

We have mighty pretty flowers at the Brier Patch right now. I've been inviting people to "Come over and see my garden". But a recent visitor said when she left, "Now you come over and look at my weeds". The shoe sort of fit because the border is far from weedless. Nevertheless the July mulching kept the great big weeds down.

Mrs. Turney Pontius has won herself a chicken dinner. She had a bet that the flowers on her Allegheny bamboo would not turn pink. Sure enough the flowers all dropped off of her bamboo while they were still white. No wonder she plans to dig it up.

When my husband and I arrived at the dahlia show there were quite a few livestock men there. In fact, one of them, Presley Caldwell, won top honors. Another one, noticing my husband's discomfort at being caught at a dahlia show, said, "We'd rather be taking in a Hereford show, wouldn't we Dick". But I happen to know that Herman Dresbach is a dahlia fancier from way back. He always plants about a hundred dahlias in his garden. He wouldn't have missed that show.

The Columbus Park of Roses holds its final concert Sunday.

day. Cover with boiling hot brine and seal in glass jars.

Lemaster maintains the trick is not to boil them too long.

Mrs. Lemaster says that while she is just a plain American cook her mother was a real expert. In fact, her mother cooked meals for Gen. Pershing and Woodrow Wilson when they were guests of the ambassador for whom she worked.

Does Mrs. Lemaster have any of her mother's recipes? No, she does not. Lemaster interrupted the conversation to say that they don't use recipes in France.

But anyway, Mrs. Lemaster does cook the dark green outside leaves of endive, which we have never heard of doing here. So we came away with endive and it does make an interesting cooked vegetable.

Public Likes Mass Effects

But Flower Judges Don't Pick 'Em

If you'd leave it to John Q. Public it could easily be that a massed arrangement would take the "best of show" award. Very frequently the spectators at a flower show will stand in front of a massed arrangement and drool with pleasure at the sight of so many flowers so beautifully combined.

However, one of the county's foremost flower arrangers, who specializes in the massed effect, was bawling the fact that massed arrangements never took first prize.

Actually, at the recent fair he had entered her massed arrangement in a class which called for a composition depicting the cover of a flower catalogue. In this class her massed arrangement competed with both massed-line and line arrangements.

A massed arrangement naturally has many different sorts of flowers, colors and flower forms.

Arrangers and judges are conditioned to the idea that the use of a few flowers is always preferable to a large number of flowers. The idea has crept in from the Orientals that using a large number of flowers is a vulgar display. And nine judges out of ten are thoroughly indoctrinated with this notion.

John Taylor Arms, master of flower design has said, "Design, first, last and always." And it is true that a large number of gorgeous flowers is apt to obscure the design unless the arranger is a skilled craftsman.

HOWEVER, the arranger of whom I speak is a skilled craftsman and her arrangements did have design within the framework of its closed silhouette.

A massed-line arrangement is predominately line with a light mass effect. Under this classification are the most favored designs, the Hogarth curve the crescent, the diagonal and even the vertical.

The massed-line is thought to be a combination of the best in line and the best in mass. So naturally, a massed-line arrangement of excellence will win over a true massed arrangement, excellent though it may be.

Even in a class that calls for a massed arrangement, most judges do not differentiate between the true mass and the massed-line.

To real flower lovers the massed effect is a beautiful type of arrangement and deserves more understanding from judges. The Europeans who are great flower fanciers have never faltered in their love for the massed arrangement.

Personally we are exceedingly fond of the massed effect. And we note with pleasure how much the public in general likes massed arrangements. We hope that the disappointed exhibitor will go right ahead with her specialty. Massed effects help tremendously to make a flower show a stunning spectacle even if they are not always selected as blue ribbon winners.

HARDY ASTERS — Perennial borders are spent by the end of August. But the addition of varieties of hardy asters or Michaelmas daisies will add splashes of color in September that linger over to Chrysanthemum time. Pictured here are Samaria, deep violet; Alaska, purest white and Alcida, garnet purple.

Hardy Asters Bring Color To September Flower Border

Many gardeners have to depend on annuals for September color in their perennial borders. Michaelmas daisies or hardy asters, however, are foolproof and dependable perennials that will add splashes of color at a time when the other perennials are spent.

The new varieties come in clear cheerful pinks, blues and whites and of course different shades of lavender and orchid. The aster season lingers over into chrysanthemum time to make fall gardens memorable color festivals.

Asters are of medium height varying from 24 to 36 inches. They are of easiest culture and may be divided every three years. When in full bloom the entire plant is a mass of color.

A native of North America hardy asters are highly regarded in Great Britain, where they are known by the name of Michaelmas daisies.

The cushion type or dwarf asters have become very popular in recent years. These are from six to 12 inches. During September cushion type asters are like small mounds of color. Popular varieties are Constance, a nine-inch shell pink variety; lilac time, 12 inches, soft lilac; Niobe, only six inches, pure white and Rosebud, 12 inches, rose pink.

The cushions are valuable for edging or for grouping in front of the border.

Quail Issue Draws Answer By Don Mack

Don Mack, outdoor editor of the Ohio State Journal, writes:

Dear Mrs. Jones:

"I read with a good deal of interest your story on the quail issue. Our President, Dwight Eisenhower, goes to Georgia to hunt quail and doves. He comes to our fair State of Ohio to hunt ducks in the Lake Erie marsh section.

"By far the most of the states in which the quail exists permit legal hunting of them. Ohio is in the quail 'belt'. Here we are not legally permitted to hunt them.

"Does this mean that we in Ohio are right... and the other states are wrong?

"That line of reasoning is silly. 'Quail have always been known as a game bird. They have had legal open seasons on them in many states since the first open and closed seasons came into existence. In these states they have had the usual cycles... years when the quail populations were up... and years when they were down.

"All proof that hunting pressure has no bearing on the amount of quail. The age of quail can be determined by certain characteristics on their wing feathers. In 1957 the Game Commission of the State of Nebraska collected, at random, 1,638 quail wings from hunters in that state during the open season. They found that 86.4 per cent of the birds taken were young of that spring.

"Robert R. Garey wrote an interesting article for your page of August 9th of this year. No need for me to repeat him. It was well stated. Put me down for agreeing with him 100 per cent... I think the sportsmen of Ohio should be legally permitted to hunt quail here in Ohio."

Respectfully,
Don Mack

Flower Judge Gives Tips On Masses

At least one flower show judge who likes massed arrangements is Mrs. Paul Mead, accredited flower show judge of the Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs. Mrs. Mead, who served as judge at the Pickaway County Fair for the first day flower show, gave some interesting tips on massed arrangements.

Mrs. Mead not only likes the massed effects but she has considerable knowhow. Enough to take all sorts of prizes at the Ohio State Fair on her massed designs!

"In the first place", says Mrs. Mead, "start with a big needle point holder, the biggest you can find. There are a lot of flowers going into that massed arrangement."

She went on to say that the composite type container was especially in vogue at the present time for massed arrangements. She asked if we had noticed lately how many winners had used composites.

Mrs. Mead said to use at least five different kinds of flowers.

The main pitfall in massed arrangements is making them flat.

Swappin' Corner

Mrs. James Mattinson, Kingston, has three full grown euonymous shrubs, which she no longer wants as foundation plants. She is interested in replacements for the foundation. But the euonymous is going. So call and try to make a deal even if you do not have other foundation plants.

Now is the time to really swap your plants. Almost anything from trees to shrubs can be moved in the fall. And of course if you have surplus bulbs fall is also the best time for planting. Try swapping your surplus. The people with the best gardens are clever swappers.

"Remember they are three dimensional" she cautioned. That's another reason you need a big holder.

"USE roses, if possible in combination with your other material. There is nothing so luscious as a rose. So by all means use roses to give a rich three dimensional effect," she further commented.

Mrs. Mead also said the focal area in the massed arrangement was of supreme importance.
